

Starting Monday, February 8, Fenway Health will begin offering indoor COVID-19 testing in the new testing pods located on the first floor of our 1340 Boylston Street location. Able bodied patients will enter through the rear door at 1340 Boylston Street which can be accessed via Private Alley 936 (see directions below). Handicap access will continue to be through the front entrance of 1340 Boylston Street. When you arrive for your appointment, please call 617.480.0498 to check in for your testing appointment.

Directions to the Rear Door of 1340 Boylston Street

Patients will enter through the rear door at 1340 Boylston Street which can be accessed via Private Alley 936 (this street is unmarked) which is best accessed by taking your first left on Kilmarnock Street (on the corner where Tatte is located) if you're coming from Fenway Health's Boylston Street entrance, then take your first left into Private Alley 936 (just after The Harlo Parking garage entrance). You will enter through the door at the top of the stairs (to the left of the Fenway Health loading dock).
